

SCAVOLINI

Flux Swing, a collection by Giugiaro Design for Scavolini, represents an evolution in design from the original Flux concept introduced over 10 years ago. The new collection conceptualizes space as enabling a dialogue between the kitchen and living room areas in which the two can liaise perfectly with each another or act independently while maintaining a similar identity. The Flux Swing Kitchen (above left) stands out for its unique shape as well as for its stylish color combination of Sun Yellow and Titanium Grey. The Scavolini Flux screen independent living room solution (above right) is distinguished by wall units with Prestige White gloss lacquered shaped doors, to match with style the Alaska Blue gloss lacquered finish on the shelves and wall claddings. For more information, visit scavolini.com.